

Moral Guidance System (MGS)

- The proposed application is a contextually aware software agent that can be programmed with a spiritual institution's set of moral values and assist their devotees with their moral choices.
- Televangelism represents the fusion of broadcast television and Evangelical Christianity. The act of spiritual worship is intertwined with the production quality of a television game show.
- The Catholic Church is attempting to modernize its traditional list of sins to better reflect the era of globalization. Bioethics (stem cells and human cloning), environmental destruction (pollution and global warming) and social and economic injustices (disproportionate distribution of wealth)
- The role of the spiritual institution is to assist their practitioners with moral guidance through life's many choices. This happens to parallel a software agent's role, which is also to assist us with choices
